

CIA SPARKS ACADEMIC BRILLIANCE WITH ASEA-UNINET VIRTUAL WORKSHOP 2024

UNLOCKING RESEARCH IDEAS AT ASEA-UNINET WORKSHOP 2024

On Wednesday, December 20th, 2023, Center for International Affairs (CIA), Suranaree University of Technology (SUT), Thailand hosted the ASEA-UNINET Virtual Workshop 2024. Drawing a diverse crowd of over sixty participants, the event commenced with the inspiring opening message from H.E. Mr. Wilhelm M. Donko, Austrian Ambassador to Thailand.

Afterwards, Mr. Christoph Niederhauser, Programme Officer for ASEA-UNINET Network at Austria's Agency for Education and Internationalisation (OeAD), offered an overview of the Ernst Mach Grant, laying the foundation for understanding collaborative projects. Ms. Barbara Karahan, Programme Officer for ASEA-UNINET at OeAD, later highlighted ASEA-UNINET projects. This engaged introduction set the stage for Prof. Dr. A Min Tjoa from the Institute of Information Systems Engineering at Vienna University of Technology and ASEA-UNINET Coordinator for Technology, Innovation, and Sustainability Projects for Europe. Prof. Tjoa passionately introduced ASEA-UNINET Research Opportunities, providing valuable insights and laying the groundwork for the subsequent session.

The spotlight then turned to Prof. Rick Rabiser, Head of Christian Doppler Lab VaSiCS at Johannes Kepler Universität Linz (JKU), Head of JKU/Dynatrace Co-Innovation Lab, Head of Cyber-Physical Systems Lab, Linz Institute of Technology who shared practical strategies for crafting successful research proposals. The subsequent interactive Q&A session fostered engagement with speakers, leading the final session by Dr. Mullika Sungsanit, Vice Rector for Engagement at Suranaree University of Technology (SUT) as the ASEA-UNINET National Coordinator for Thailand, who closed the virtual workshop with vibrant remarks.
